IN MEMORY OF
Their meeting it was sudden;
Their meeting it was sad;
She sacrificed her sweet young life,
'Twas all the life she had.
She sleeps beneath the daisies fair,
In peace she's resting now.
Oh, there's always something doing
When a freight train meets a cow.
—Corbin Laborer.

Anti-Gripes cures colds. Sallie Wood's. Miss Julia Muse is confined to her home with a well developed case of grip.

Mr. Henry Willett, an old citizen, is sick at his home in East Third street, Fifth Ward.

A bill introduced in Congress provides that Postmasters shall be elected by a popular vote.

Judge Samuel Holmes, of Carlisle is being urged for the Republican nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals.

The Board of Equalization is holding daily sessions in the County Clerk's office, to hear complaints and adjust taxation. If you are aggrieved in the matter of assessment present yourself and state your case to the Board.

The Ohio State Emergency Board has appropriated $2,500 for the relief of flood sufferers in Brown and Adams counties. The amount could be judiciously placed in Aberdeen, our neighbor across the way, that is staggering under the heavy blow received by the high water, and then not overdo the act by helping a brother in dire distress.

The C. and O. has been specially careful in watching that part of the roadbed between Market and Wall streets. Since the recession of the river several weak spots have shown their presence, and a night watchman is employed walking the track all through the night. Yesterday a gang of men was engaged in filling in and strengthening the weakened parts.

Teachers and educators of the state will learn with pleasure that the Kentucky Educational Association will at least be placed upon a firm financial basis commensurate with the needs of present conditions. The work began to crystallize with the filing of articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State by Superintendent of Public Instruction J. H. Fuqua.

PERRAUT—CLINGER.

The marriage of Mr. Albert L. Perraut and Miss Nora Clinger, daughter of Mrs. George M. Clinger of East Second street, occurred yesterday in Covington.

Miss Clinger has for some time held a desirable position as stenographer at Huntington, W. Va. She is a very charming young lady, and by her pleasing style makes friends wherever she is known.

Mr. Perraut is connected with one of Mineralva's most highly esteemed families and is a very worthy young man. At present he is located in Chicago, and he will take his bride to that city for a future residence.

Their many friends in the city extend congratulations and best wishes.

Frank Garrett of Lewis county and Maud McMillan of Phister avenue, were married yesterday afternoon in the County Clerk's office, Judge C. D. Newell officiating. The bride is a well known resident, while the groom's circle of acquaintances is not so extensive. The banquet and dance last evening at the home of the newly wedded in Phister avenue was attended by a numerous outpouring of friends and acquaintances.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

The special session of the City Council last evening was a short horse and soon curried.

The meeting was called for the purpose of passing the Paving Ordinance on its second reading. Owing to the absence of the City Attorney, and there being legal points to be inquired into, the Paving Committee was given further time in which to consult an Attorney and the matter passed over to the regular meeting Monday night.

The Paving Committee submitted a report recommending that Mr. John Sanborn be engaged as City Engineer. He agreeing to perform the duties thereof in consideration of 4 1/2% of the cost of construction. The Engineer to furnish inspectors and he or his assistant to be on the work the entire time.

The report was accepted with a provision that a contract be drawn up conforming to the ideas of Council and submitted for its ratification and acceptance at the next regular meeting.

It was stated that this year's program would not exceed the sum of $50,000.

Adjourned.

The engine of No. 5 was demolished and the baggage and day coach considerably shaken up. Several freight cars were knocked off the track and the caboose wrecked.

BOARD OF HEALTH

Mason County's Newly Appointed Health Officers

The State Board of Health has appointed the following gentlemen to serve the ensuing twelve months as a local Board for Mason county. Dr. H. K. Adamson, Dr. J. H. Samuel, Dr. M. H. Davis of Mayslick and Hon. C. D. Newell.

At a meeting of the new Board yesterday, Dr. J. H. Samuel was elected President and Dr. H. K. Adamson Secretary to serve during their term, as members of said Board.

Their duties in part consist in looking after the general sanitary condition of their territory. All matters deleterious to the health of the public will come within their purview.

The Board is a good one and it is to be hoped that they will carry out to the letter the design for which it was created.

There are numerous things hereabouts that need looking after and bettering and that they are familiar with certain nuisances and abuses as now conducted is taken for granted.

The Board will meet at stated periods and that they will fulfill and perform all that is expected of them, goes without saying.

SAYS Teddy to Kentucky JOE: "What'll you 'ave?" "About $6,000 a year for life," says JOE.

BATTLING NELSON is the theatrical hero of London just now and is getting $1,000 a week, the same as President ROOSEVELT receives.

With night raiders in the Purchase, the Hargis trial in Breathitt, the "Machine" in the Metropolis and the tax rate soaring skyward—poor old Kentucky, says The London (Ky.) Echo.

THE balance on hand at San Francisco left from the quake relief fund amounts to over $4,000,000, and the authorities are wondering what to do with it. How did Mayor SMITZ happen to overlook that little sum?

"PRESERVE us in this dangerous day of unexampled prosperity. We, LORD GOD, have borne adversity; give us grace to endure prosperity." So prayed EDWARD EVERETT HALE, the venerable Chaplain of the Senate, at the recent opening of Congress.

EX-EDITOR THOMAS A. DAVIS is now "editing" the big Maysville Relief Fund for flood victims, and is playing Santa Claus and Lord Bountiful to the Queen's taste. This fund is proving a God-send to scores of people. During the present zero weather it doubly blesses—"those that give as well as those who receive"—and is like the gentle dew from Heaven.

At Louisa, Ky., FRANK KELLEY was given a year in the Pen for shooting his son's leg off. KELLEY is 55 years old and has been in trouble many times. He was evidently tanked up on mean whisky, the kind that a few drops of it would cause a rabbit to spit in the face of a bulldog. The Pure Food Law ought to remedy all this.

SENATOR BEN TILLMAN, like BEN BUTLER, is everything except a damphooole. Say what you will about TILLMAN, his speech in the Senate last Monday was a classic and so full of facts that it made the "American House of Lords" wince and wiggle. BEN is radically wrong and entirely prejudiced on the race question, and is only piqued at ROOSEVELT. The President and TILLMAN are eager to see each other; not to fight, but to shake hands and laugh all their differences away.

We have heard of Presidential booms in all parts of the United States, from Maine to California and from Pea Ridge to Medicine Hat, but the little boomlet that has got 'em all skinned for distance is the one Presidential Boomlet started at Cannes, France, for the Hon. Marse HENRI. An admirer in that far-away vineclad clime calls upon the "onterrified" to rally to the standard of the "Star-Eyed Goddess of Reform," the brilliant gentleman and Democrat, who talks on the "Compromises of Life," but makes "no compromise with dishonor," the man who fights BILLY BRYAN six days in the week and praises him on Sundays. This latest Watterson boomer declares the great Editor's platform is the "Constitooshun," and his toga the National Flag. Hooroar for Marse HENRI! If he's elected there'll be hawes on all the bushes and every newspaper man in the land will have 40 acres an' a mule an' pi every day.

SHE COULDN'T FIND TIME.

Patnetic Story Containing Moral, Told by Ian MacLaren

One of the prettiest of Ian MacLaren's stories is called "Only a Servant Lass." and it's only a servant lass who is the heroine of this story.

The oldest of a big family of children—a poor family, of course—her pitiful wages made the great part of the family living. So, of course, she hadn't time—nor money—to bother with doctors, she thought. But that swelling bothered her, and finally she went.

"Come back in a week or two," the doctor said, after giving her some medicine, "unless you're worse. If you are, come at once."

Six months later she "found time" to go back to see him. She had been getting rapidly worse, was suffering, but there was always something that needed to be done, and apparently no one else to do it.

It was a case of malignant tumor, and an immediate operation was the only chance she had.

Her mistress was ill—the woman she had been with so many years, who had been good to her family. So she stayed a while, did the housecleaning, nursed her mistress, helped until vacation came, and her younger sister could do her work without affecting her own school work.

And then? Then it was too late.

WOULD MAKE ANYONE ANGRY.

Carried Potatoes Six Miles; Camped in a Field of Them.

"Speaking of incidents, I saw a few in the four years I spent in the Union army during the civil war," said William Kingsland, a Union army veteran living at Bucklin, Mo.

One time down in Georgia during Sherman's march to the sea, myself and another man dug about a hundred of sweet potatoes while on the march, expecting to cook them when we camped about a half mile further on. Grub was pretty scarce in those days, and we valued those sweet potatoes pretty highly. Then we received orders to continue the march. We didn't suppose it would be much further, as it was already almost night, so we carried the sweet potatoes on a stick between us. We marched and marched and marched, and oh, but those potatoes grew heavy. Six miles from where we dug the potatoes we pitched camp—oh, but it makes me mad every time I think of it.

"Naturally," was the remark. "Yes, naturally, seeing that we camped right on a great big field of sweet potatoes."

THANKFUL

To my many friends and the public generally who have in the past extended to me such a liberal share of their patronage, which has helped so materially in making my business career in Maysville such a success: I want to assure all that I fully appreciate what they have done for me, and promise that I shall, by renewed efforts, endeavor to retain the confidence of the public by paring the same course of fair dealing and polite attention in the future as in the past and selling the very best goods at the most reasonable prices.

My stock is now the largest and most varied it has ever been my pleasure to offer to the public, consisting of every article in the Staple and Fancy Grocery line. These goods are fresh and new and of the very best quality. My last shipment of New Crop Open Kettle Molasses is now in and they are strictly fancy, and in spite of the fact that prices on these goods have materially advanced I am still selling them at the very low price of 50c per gallon. My stock of CANNED GOODS is unusually large and the quality of the very best.

The demand for PERFECT FLOUR is rapidly growing because it is beyond a doubt the very best flour sold in Maysville or that can be made. It has no superior anywhere. The flour on my line Blended Coffee has been enormous and is constantly increasing. I am still selling these fine goods at 15c, 20c and 25c per pound, and if you want a strictly fancy high grade Mocha and Java, the finest that can be produced, don't fail to call for the famous "Harrington Hall," sweetest, sold only in one-pound airtight tins at 35c per pound. A fresh supply of fall outfit, stock-creeper just in. If you want something extra try one of my fancy Blended Meats, heads and tails off. A big invoice of very fine Premium Chinaware just in, a sample of which may be seen in my warehouse window. These goods I give to my CASH customers in redeeming tickets given out with their cash purchases. Until further notice DOUBLE TICKETS will be given with each cash purchase on SATURDAYS. By taking advantage of this proposition the purchaser will very soon accumulate enough tickets to secure a fine set of china FIRE-OF-COST.

I buy strictly fancy Table Butter, Fresh Eggs and Country Produce generally, for which I pay cash or trade at lowest cash prices. I want everyone to come and see me; always welcome. If you don't want to buy it will be a pleasure for me to show you the nicest, the cleanest and the best kept store in Northeastern Kentucky. Thanking all again, I am most sincerely,

Held Up and Separated From Their Money

This hold-up, however, is novel, in that it is with the consent and countenance of the party held up. It takes two to make a trade, you know. We, as party of the first part, have personally visited the world's furniture mart and with great patience and care examined the lines of the largest factories and selected their newest styles and finishes and by means of the price obtained for "Quantity Purchases" enabled to offer you the greatest values in the Ohio Valley. You, as party of the second part, visit our sample rooms, examine the new styles, consider the prices, and, if you wish, make a purchase. It takes two to make a trade. We feel assured that you do not

Fear Judgment

When that judgment is your own. You have lived long enough to know a rich, rare bargain when you see it. Usually in bargain sales the value or service is cut with the price. For instance, the article is either shoddy, out of style or out of season; but not so in this sale—new goods, new styles, and yet bargain prices. We simply got a good thing and are willing to divide. The following adjectives aptly describe the bargains that we offer you in this new stock of Furniture:

Rich, Rare, Enticing, Attractive, Conservative

Rich in appearance, rare in design, Enticing in finish, Attractive in symmetry and Conservative in price. What more could you wish? A visit to our sample rooms is a pleasure as well as an education.

OUR PRIDE IS IN THE WORK HARNESS

Department of our store. By giving special attention to the most minute details we turn out Harness whose longevity rivals that of the Deacon's wonderful one-horse shay, which, as you all know, was so wonderfully constructed that it did not wear out in any one particular place, but, after being used for one hundred years to the minute, went to pieces all at once. Our workmen, being skilled at their work, know, as did the Deacon, that "Tis mighty plain that the workmen's place cuts 'stan' the strainin', 'n the way t' fix it; uz I maintain, is qu' jes' to make that place uz strong uz the rest." We can give you the names of some of our customers to whom we sold work harness when we first went into business, and which is still as good as new. Do you not think this is full value received for every cent invested?

TRAXEL'S

MR. JOHN MANUAL.

Mr. John Manual died at his home in Dover Saturday evening at 6 o'clock of pneumonia, after only ten days illness.

About two months ago he was walking from his home to the home of his daughter only a square away, when he tripped and fell, his right side and breast striking a stone. He was knocked unconscious for a time and was badly injured internally and several ribs broken. However, he apparently recovered and was able to do his usual farm work.

He united with the Dover Christian Church a month ago, and only three weeks before he died he was immersed in the Ohio river by Elder Langer, the Pastor. On the following Thursday he was taken ill in the night with a severe case of grip, which developed rapidly into pneumonia, causing his death at a time when he was thought to be improving.

Deceased was one of the most industrious farmers in the county, and was noted for the quantity and quality of the fine sweet potatoes he produced, his crops of this vegetable amounting to an average of 400 bushel a year for the past 40 years.

He was the son of John and Melinda Manual, and was born in Lewis county on May 29th, 1829.

He was married to Miss Lydia Virgin fifty years ago, his wife and four children surviving.

His aged wife was overcome by the shock of her husband's sudden death and is now in a very serious condition at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward McNutt, in Dover.

The remains of Mr. Manual were taken on the C. and O. yesterday morning to Manchester Station and thence to the East Fork Christian Church Cemetery in Lewis county for interment.

Deceased had a premonition that he would die, and so expressed himself to the writer.

He was a good man, highly respected in his community, and greatly loved by his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Derlington Lee left on the 3:20 C. and O. train yesterday on their long voyage to the Philippine Islands, carrying with them the blessings and best wishes of their legion of friends.

River News

The gage marks 24.3 and falling.

Oldriver, the water walker, is below Memphis.

The Virginia will be up tonight for Pittsburgh and way point.

It will be a glad day for rivermen when the boats get to running again on schedule time.

Oil poured upon the troubled waters saved the levee at Lawrenceburg, Ind. The waves were making such headway that the fight to save the town was against heavy odds until A. C. Billup, an experienced seaman, now a mechanical engineer in Lawrenceburg, suggested the plan of pouring oil on the waters. He had seen ocean vessels saved in this way in a storm, and his suggestion was at once acted upon, and proved a success.

The final figures in the report of the Honore Committee on Rivers and Harbors show that the Ohio river will get in excess of $4,000,000 for improvements. In order to raise Dams Nos. 8, 11, 13, 18 and 37 more than $2,000,000 is provided. The next largest individual item is $1,200,000 for the construction of Lock and Dam No. 26, below the mouth of the Big Kanawha river. These improvements are in consonance with the nine-foot project.

The causes that combined to make the flood of 1884 in the Ohio valley were geographical, topographical and meteorological. The Ohio river is formed at Pittsburgh by the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers. The former has its source in numerous small creeks in the mountains of New York and Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio, draining an area of 13,000 square miles. The Monongahela has its source in Tygart river, beginning in the glades of Maryland and the West Fork in West Virginia, uniting at Fairmount, W. Va. Both drain a mountainous country. Below Fairmount the Cheat river, the largest tributary of the Upper Monongahela, draining the mountains of the central part of the state, enters the Monongahela. Snow had nothing to do with the present rise in the Ohio.

KNOW HIM AT LAST.

Gen. Butler's Identity Made Known by His Own Quotation.

Gen. B. F. Butler built a house in Washington on the same plan as his home in Lowell, and his studies were furnished in exactly the same way. The general and his secretary, Mr. Clancy, afterward city clerk of Washington for many years, were constantly traveling between the two places.

One day a senator called upon Ben Butler in Lowell and the next day in Washington, only to find him and his secretary engaged upon the same work on both occasions.

"Heavens, Clancy, don't you ever stop?" exclaimed the senator.

"No," interposed Gen. Butler, "Satan finds some mischief still for idle hands to do."

Clancy arose and bowed, saying: "G. M. Butler, I never was sure until now just who my employer was. I had heard the rumor, but I always discredited it."

To say and to do, that is the motto of the man who knows how to get things done. It is the motto of the man who is not content with doing things, but who wants to know how to do them.

Clancy arose and bowed, saying: "G. M. Butler, I never was sure until now just who my employer was. I had heard the rumor, but I always discredited it."

With a short life also he was around here and around there a pretty good deal. He was a man of many parts and I asked him if he had a it to a magazine.

"No, I tore it up," he said. "I thought that was foolish, and I said: 'Tore it up, Charlie? Why that was the cleverest thing I ever knew you to do, and do you know, he seemed to get offended, and I can't leave my life, see why. Can you?'"

Martyr.

The multi-millionaire was in great agony when he found he would probably be commended to die rich.

"Money," he exclaimed piteously, "nothing but money! Is it not a punishment?"

"Yes," replied the beggar at the gate, "and I call it capital punishment because you give me your wealth and do a happy man?"

But the multi-millionaire shook his head.

"No," he answered dolefully, "when a man is condemned to capital punishment he generally deserves it, so I shall take my medicine like a man."

And then he called out his $10,000 buldog and drove the beggar off the premises.

CANNOT RECOMMEND CUTICURA TOO HIGHLY

THE COOPER MEDICINE CO., Dayton, O.

Gentlemen:—I am seventy-one years of age, and for a number of years I have been in bad health. I had catarrh, kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had a severe cough which became so bad I was afraid I was going into consumption. My stomach and bowels bothered me all the time, and my appetite was poor. I could not sleep, and would cough up a large amount of phlegm. I have only taken two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery, and the cough has almost entirely disappeared. My kidneys and back no longer hurt me. My rheumatism is gone, and my stomach and bowels are greatly improved. My appetite has returned and my sleep is restful. I have so much to thank you for. I know others who have been greatly benefited by your remedies. Cooper's New Discovery and Quick Relief are splendid medicines.

MRS. POLLY TINKER, 1944 Ralston Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

Beware of Ointments For Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. WOMEN'S WOES.

Maysville Women are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, hearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. J. B. Gibson of 22 East Fourth street Maysville, Ky., says:
